We splitted all students into two groups. Our guide was a very nice and funny woman who explained us everything very clearly and understandable. After these two hours from 09:00 until 11:00, we were quite experts about the many interesting facts about the city for example the architecture of the old Barcelona and its famous architect Antoni Gaudi, the St. Josep Boqueria market that exists since 1217 or the old roman aqueducts which were built to transport the water in to the old town. Lunch at “Santa Dorotea” After the guided city tour, we ate lunch at Santa Dorotea. Plenum about the current stand and the further steps in the project In the afternoon we had a plenum session with all participants. We discussed about the homework and the current stand of the project. Also, we talked about the further steps we need to make. The goals weren't achieved, because some of the groups talked again about the general stuff and didn't present the details.
